The Worst Over

The exceedingly favorable outlook for better prices for Western range cattle during the early summer months has been but ing the early summer months has been but partially realized. While corn-fed cattle have not been scawer in years, the grass has been so good that the rangemen have been enabled to fill the gap with desirable beef-cattle, most of them good enough for all but the fancy beef trade, so that the shortage of Southern cattle marketed in July and August shows a remarkable increase over previous years, the increase being estimated at nearly 5000 per day over last year. With this great rush have come last year. With this great rush have come thousands of head of unripe, half-fat, green ek, suitable only for the feed lot, which en a constant burden to the mar-"le high price of corn and the doubt this year's crop would develop, no coders backward in taking this stock, and until within a very short time that trade has been exceedingly slow and unsatisfactory. Now that the great rush to market is over, and the feeders can reckon with some degree of certainty on the crop, it is believed the trade will have a better tone, the noticeable improvement of the past few days being good evidence that the worst is over. - Kansas City Drovers'

DEAR SIRS. The Webster's diction DEAR SIRS.—The Webster's dictionary that you send us as a premium with THE GAZETTE for $4 is better than we expected to get for we don't see how you can sell such a large book, with so much in it, for so little money. It is just good enough to go in any house, and cheap enough to satisfy any one. Yours respectfully DOWNING MEON.
